Capacity-Building Session by FCPLG to Empower Tribal Elected Women Representatives in Jharkhand

To advance the foresight of our visionary President, Dr. B. B. L. Madhukar to empower Elected Women Representatives (EWRs) particularly tribal women representatives across the country, the FORE Centre for Political Leadership and Governance (FCPLG) organised a one-day capacity-building session on 7th October 2026 at Majhgaon Block, Chaibasa District, Jharkhand. The session aimed to inspire and empower tribal Elected Women Representatives. The participants included Sarpanches, Ward Members, and Panchayat Samiti Members.

FCPLG Representative Ms. Nisha Ekka supported participants, engaging with them in this initiative to encourage women's leadership and promote inclusive, participatory governance at the grassroots level. The session focused on key themes, including gender equality, women's political leadership, digital governance, constituency management for local elections, and campaign building.

Inspired by the driven leadership of our CEO, Prof. (Dr.) Abhay Anand Tiwari, the initiative reflects FCPLG's continued commitment to strengthening grassroots leadership and equipping elected women representatives with the knowledge, skills, and confidence to lead effectively and participate meaningfully in democratic governance.
