

FCPLG Successfully Hosts "Leadership Lessons from Bollywood" Workshop

The FORE Centre for Political Leadership and Governance (FCPLG) successfully concluded its flagship workshop, "Leadership Lessons from Bollywood" held on 22 July 2026, bringing together students, professionals, and aspiring leaders for an engaging and insightful learning experience.

Held under the visionary leadership of Prof. (Dr.) Abhay Anand Tiwari, FRSA, London, CEO, FCPLG, the workshop explored how leadership values embedded in Bollywood narratives can inspire strategic thinking, effective communication, teamwork, ethical decision-making, and personal growth.

The sessions were enriched by distinguished speakers Dr. Umesh Sharma (Renowned Psychologist, Corporate Trainer, and Author), Ms. Haneet Bhasin Vohra (Communication Strategist, Entrepreneur, and Leadership Coach), and Prof. Rohan Sarma (Social and Behavioural Scientist), who shared practical insights and real-world perspectives on leadership and governance through interactive discussions and engaging case studies.

Participants actively took part in discussions, experiential learning activities, and collaborative exercises throughout the workshop. Certificates were awarded to all participants upon successful completion of the programme.

The workshop reaffirmed FCPLG's commitment to fostering innovative leadership development and preparing future leaders equipped to make a meaningful impact in governance, public policy, and society.
